September 2022
There's a time for every purpose
under heaven...

From the Desk of the Executive Director...

Greetings!

This month we honor the laborers of our nation. Not only those who labor in the fields, the factories, the offices, but also those who labor for the Kingdom. Let us never forget the importance of working daily to our fullest potential in our earthly jobs but also our spiritual labors. In keeping with this theme we are pleased to announce the opening of the Queen of the Universe Section in All Saints Cemetery in North Haven. See the information below and let us know if we may be of service in explaining this wonderful addition.

At the CCA we recognize the gift of work. Being able to labor for the families of the Archdiocese is a gift that we never want to lose sight of or take for granted. As such we work diligently to meet the needs of the families entrusted to us by the Archbishop. Some of you may have experienced delays that you are not used to when dealing with us. Unfortunately this problem, especially with certain flush markers and monuments is a world wide issue, not unique to the CCA. We apologize for any problems you have encountered along the way in this regard, but want you to know we take every issue very seriously. We are working with suppliers and sources to the very best of our abilities to ensure that you receive the best service possible. Your understanding during these difficult times is greatly appreciated and noticed.

On September 24th the CT Catholic Men's Conference is being held at Northwest Catholic High School in West Hartford. I encourage all Catholic men to review the information below about this important event. What better way to spend a Saturday than with other men dedicated to living the virtuous life. As summer comes to a close and we gear up for the holiday season, know that your CCA continues to work hard for you and your family to provide the very best resting place for your loved ones. Please visit your loved ones as often as possible and offer your suggestions to make our Cemeteries even better!

Peace,

John Pinone

Words to ponder...

Thinking about Donating your Organs?

The subject of donating healthy organs after someone has died is sometimes misunderstood in terms of Church teaching. The high level of respect for the integrity of the body of a deceased loved one that Catholics traditionally express might lead to a perception that such an action is not permissible. However, The Catechism of the Catholic Church deals with this subject in a clear and compassionate manner, citing that such a practice is, indeed, in keeping with respect for the person and the goal of moral scientific research and treatment of others. Organ transplants are in conformity with the moral law if the physical and psychological dangers and risks to the donor are proportionate to the good sought for the recipient. Organ donation after death is a noble and meritorious act and is to be encouraged as an expression of generous solidarity. It is not morally acceptable if the donor or his proxy has not given explicit consent. (Catechism of the Catholic Church, 2296) Ultimately, the decision to "extend a life" through organ donation is a personal one and should be made prayerfully and in discussion with other family members.
